Mr. William J. Casey

Dear Mr. Casey:

With pleasure, I invite you to participate in a Career Forum to be held on the campus of The University of Rhode Island in Kingston on October 17, 1984. The University of Rhode Island is an institution committed to the application of its diverse resources to business, industry and community service agencies throughout the nation and world. The Career Forum is designed to provide you with the opportunity to acquaint yourself more thoroughly with the University and the quality of our students.

A team of undergraduate students representing various academic disciplines has organized the day so that students may learn about the employment opportunities which await them upon completion of their academic requirements and about the personnel needs of different organizations. Through a recent University-wide survey, students expressed interest in gaining information about your organization in particular. In turn, the Career Forum promises to offer you a glimpse of the many talents and potentials of The University of Rhode Island's students.

The University's dedication to excellence manifests itself both in its institutional achievements and in the many outstanding accomplishments of our students. I'll mention a few examples:

- *The University of Rhode Island houses the National Science Foundation Center for Robotics Research.
- *University of Rhode Island students created an advertising campaign for Coors which placed first in New England and sixth nationally in the American Advertising Federation's collegiate competition. In fact, The University of Rhode Island has won the competition in six of the last ten years.
- *The University of Rhode Island established the first Ocean Engineering program in the nation.
- *The University of Rhode Island Graduate Psychology program is one of twenty in the nation accredited by the American Psychological Association in both clinical and school psychology.

*This year, four 1984 University of Rhode Island journalism graduates took top honors in the Amateur Documentary Category of the Film and Video Competition.

We are enclosing a brochure from each of the seven colleges of the University to introduce you to the diverse programs of study. I hope you will take the time to review them in preparation for your participation in the Career Forum. Also enclosed is a postage-paid RSVP card. Please return it at your earliest convenience.

I have asked Laura LaBelle to contact you directly to confirm your participation in what we know will be an informative day of interaction between you and students who have expressed a keen interest in your organization.

I look forward to seeing you at the University in October.

Sincerely,

Edward D. Eddy
President
